Take control of your story!

Nothing feels worse than not being believed.

You have been accused by the authorities of wrong doing, but it is they who have it all wrong.

Yet, no one will listen.

We will help you set the record straight.

As you have discovered, there are plenty of reporters who want to skewer and roast you, no matter the truth.

There are very few people who are willing and able to help someone who has been accused of wrong doing.

Such people are able to see the invisible, discern subtlety and nuance, and understand how words can be used to neutralize negative narratives.

We are those people!

Telling a complicated story is not easy, especially if your adversaries have a head start.

You know what we mean. You write and write and write and never make headway.

You just cannot seem to develop a clear, concise, persuasive, or compelling message that sets the record straight.

It is where we come in!

Our team consists of professionals with advanced degrees and a mastery of the English language.

We couple our writing ability with advanced understanding of law, business, finance, commerce, human behavior, prison, the court system, journalism, the media, politics, and more.

We have helped lawyers, defendants and inmates write hundreds of articles, research papers, briefs, and stories.

We understand the story that needs to be told and how to tell it!

We are not lawyers, but lawyers use our services. We are writers and researchers with a special set of skills.

We take impossibly complex and confusing facts and make them sound simple and understandable to the average person...the person you are trying to convince.

Why do we understand?

Because we have (or had) family and friends in prison who would not be (or had not been) there had we known then what we know now.

We are making progress for them and we can make progress for you! We definitely understand how important it is to set the record straight!
